Overall, the sums of monthly published jobs from all participating Career Services stay higher than last year.

Monthly comparisons

After an important decrease at the end of the Q2/2022, a major recovery appears in July rising the total of job ads higher than last year. Moreover, a slight decrease comparable as 2021 can be seen in August 2022. However, unlike last year, September has not recovered from this decline suggesting an interesting start for Q4/2022.
